Denison University

The Adytum

VoxPopvli

In order to best attempt to include as large a segment of the population as possible, the theme of the 1998 Adytum revolves around what that population has to say. Thus, scattered throughout this book one will be able to find various quotes that we hope will help to shed light on the character of Denison University, as it is beheld through the eyes of the individuals who are in contact with it each and every day. It is our hope that through words we will be better able to express that which cannot be revealed by pictures alone. So without further ado, we present to you the 1998 Adytum, featuring VoxPopvli, the voice of the people.

The fact of the matter is that there is nothing small about Denison University. Einstein presumably would argue that even numbers are relative, for that is perhaps the only "small" thing here. Our residence halls bustle with activity essentially twenty-four hours a day, filled to overflowing with students who expend hours in class and then proceed to various activities, organizations, sports and the like. Our athletes may not always garner the attention that those of larger universities do, but they surely work as diligently and deserve just as much respect for their accomplishments. Our faculty are well-published, well-known, and well-respected. Our Greeks go through rush, do community service, support the ideals of the Greek system, and have fun. And our seniors, having completed four years here, are ready to plunge head-long into the "real world" and a future filled with endless possibilities. And all of this happens, year after year, at a fair college on the hill, the place we all call home, Denison University.

“Denison University’s theatre-cinema department is perhaps one of the best assets of this university. It provides an excellent background for students interested in all aspects of both theatre and cinema”

Smiles, Smiles

Everywhere

Outside the classroom

Denison students find a wide variety of ways to kick back after class, some of them (obviously) more challenging than others. Whether your sport is Division III, club or intramural, a little bit of quad ultimate frisbee or pick-up football, or even something a little more indoor-oriented, any way to get away from the books for a while is greatly appreciated. After all, the books will still be there when you get back.

Pictured below is a several-year-old picture of historic Barney Memorial Hall, the oldest academic building on Denison's upper campus, which this year has been under massive interior renovations. Scheduled to reopen for classes in the fall of 1998, it will be renamed Davis-Barney Hall and it will house the English Department, the McPhail Center for Environmental Studies, and the Archives collection. The "green" renovation will preserve Barney's historic integrity.

If the walls could talk...

... I am sure they could tell you everything you ever wanted to know about residence hall life. And perhaps they could even tell you some things you did not want to know, or never could have imagined. Many a night is lost in the midst of the cinderblock fortresses, studying into the wee hours, or talking about the meaning of life, or watching tv, or doing whatever. For many students, the residence halls are more than just a "home away from home": they are home. Granted, most don't have air-conditioning, nor a refridgerator which has more than the (ahem) bare essentials in life, nor plush carpet. Okay, so having a single-sized loft is not exactly everyone's idea of the perfect bedroom. And where does all that dust come from exactly? Come to think of it, maybe they aren't really anything like home, but they seem to be all right.

Who would have thought that you would come to school and meet a total stranger who would become your best friend just a week later? Or that your closet would stretch the length of a hallway. And what is it about a community bathroom that people abhor? And then there is the lottery, which is perhaps the most dreaded word in any Denison student's vocabulary. Each year all returning students need go through that painful process by which they determine their happiness with their housing situation for the up-coming year. But everything works out all right in the long run, or so it seems. And with the recent construction of the new dorms by Sunset House, students should have several nice, new options for housing for many years to come. But we'll have to update that in future editions....

GREEKS GET INVOLVED...

As any Denison student can tell you, our Greek system is unique. And perhaps that is all they will say. For on this campus, it is now not apropos to talk about the identity of the Greek system, especially that of the fraternities since the decree several years ago that Denison University's Greek system would no longer be residential in nature. The Denisonian attempted to address the issue in an editorial entitled "Greek System Confused about Identity," a piece which addressed two issues--a serenade and a chartering banquet. The following week, the Interfraternity Council prepared a letter to the editor which countered some of the charges leveled against the Greek system. Since this argument has already been debated long and hard in the annals of newspaper history, here we shall avoid controversy by stating facts, and the facts alone. Fact: this year Delta Chi Fraternity was suspended for one year for multiple infractions. Fact: this was the second time in two years that a Greek organization on Denison's campus had been suspended. Fact: the national leadership of Phi Gamma Delta and Phi Delta Theta Fraternities have declared their intention of "going dry" by the year 2000. Fact: this year Denison welcomed a new Greek-letter organization, the Ohio Tau chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, to its campus. It would therefore only be prudent to conclude that there have indeed been changes in the Greek system here, some permanent and some temporary. And if more proof is required, then that too can be arranged. In the pages that follow, one can see the annual Greek section of the Adytum. Issues which were published prior to 1995--the year in which the non-residential decision was declared--contain pages full of Greek pictures; issues published since have met simultaneously with great indifference on the part of some houses and with wonderful participation on the part of others. This certainly does seem to suggest that a certain set of houses in the Greek system is undergoing an identity change. But that controversy is neither here nor there. Fact: the Denison Greek system continues to provide useful community service to the Denison, Granville and Licking County communities. But those are only facts which concern Denison University. On a national level, there are many more:

Seven of ten people listed in Who's Who are Greek.

Three-fourths of Congress is Greek.

Of Supreme Court Justices since 1910, eighty-five percent have been Greek.

Two-thirds of Presidential cabinet members since 1900 have been Greek.

Of Fortune 500 executives, eighty-five percent are Greek.

All but three United States Presidents (since the inception of fraternities) have been Greek.

But those are enough facts for now.

Alpha Kappa Alpha is the oldest Greek-letter organization established in America by and for Black women. The record of its origin, growth and development, activities, evolving goals and accomplishments is more than an interesting chronicle of a colorful bit of college-based Americana. It is, rather, a significant and inspiring reflection of the development of a minority group in a changing culture. The sorority began as an instrument for enriching the social and intellectual aspects of college life by providing mental stimulation through interaction with friends and associates.

Through the years, however, Alpha Kappa Alpha's functioning has become more complex. After the incorporation as a perpetual body in 1913, Alpha Kappa Alpha gradually branched out and became the channel through which selected college-trained women improved the social and economic conditions in their city, state, nation and world.

Today, that tradition has continued internationally, nationally and locally. Alpha Kappa Alpha cultivates and encourages high scholastic and ethical standards, promotes unity and friendship among college women, alleviates problems concerning girls and women, maintains a progressive interest in college life and serves all mankind through the nucleus of more than 140,000 women in over 860 chapters.

The Delta membership provides an extensive array of public services through its programs. Delta members act as volunteers, in direct service work, catalysts for community action, recruiters of public and private agency support for important social issues, leaders in networking and coalition building with other organizations and resources for the securing and dissemination of information. An integral part of public service programs is the continuous maintenance of an effective system for gathering and retrieval of data in order to make analyses and evaluations.

At the inception of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., in 1913 at Howard University, the founders envisioned an organization of college women pledged to serious endeavor and community service. These youthful students demonstrated a vital concern for social welfare, academic excellence, cultural enrichment, and de-emphasized the social side of sorority life. Their ideals of scholarship and service have withstood the test of time; today, Delta Sigma Theta is a public service sorority, dedicated to a program of sharing incorporated as a national organization.

A sisterhood of more than 200,000 predominantly Black college-educated women, the Sorority currently has over 850 chapters located around the world.

Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., the first Intercollegiate Greek-letter fraternity established for Black college men, was organized at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York, on December 4, 1906. The founders of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., are Henry Arthir Callis, M.D., Charles Henry Chapman, Eugene Kinkle Jones, George Biddle Kelly, Nathaniel Allison Murray, Robert Harold Ogle and Vertner Woodson Tandy. Despite their difficulties of organization in this untried field of student life, the early fraternity pioneers succeeded in laying a firm foundation and remained steadfast in their goals--espousing the principles of good character, sound scholarship, fellowship and the uplifting of humanity, especially the struggling Black minority in America.

The purpose of Kappa Sigma is to achieve the total development of a better man . . . academically, socially, culturally, civically, and as a successful leader and role model to others." The brothers of Gamma-Xi live up to this ideal of a "better man" by taking an active part in all aspects of campus life. Members are involved in almost all varsity sports, participating in lacrosse, baseball, golf, cross country and track; captains of the soccer and football teams are also included among our members. Besides showing great leadership on the playing field, Gamma-Xi has representatives in student government, theater and Burpee Seedy theatrical company.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded in March, 1865, and has grown to become the largest fraternity in the world. The brothers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon are involved throughout the campus in Student Senate, Judicial Council, University Senate, DCGA and many other campus organizations. The brothers of SAE also participate in every varsity sport, as well as club and intramural teams.

The social program should play a vital role in any Greek system. The brothers of SAE enjoy an extensive social calendar all year. Our parties include theme parties, rush functions, and brother-only events. Tradition plays a vital part of the Ohio Mu chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, as seen in our annual parties such as Heaven and Hell, The Blue Party, and the infamous Paddy Murphy Senior Party.

Phi Gamma Delta's existence at Denison dates to before the University officially recognized the Lambda Deuteron chapter in 1885. At a school where diversity is limited, Fiji is a house of thirty individuals.

The active chapter of Fiji boasts members from all areas of the United States, as well as actives representing Europe and Asia. Of the sixteen members on the campus' board of trustees, five are graduates of the Lambda Deuteron chapter.

The Denison University Black Greek Council was established on January 27, 1998. The organization is a governing body for the historically Black Greek-lettered fraternities and sororities governed by the National Pan-Hellenic Council. The Black Greek Council encompasses three of the nine national Black Greek organizations that are presently chartered on Denison's campus--Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., and Alphi Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc. Recognizing the need for an organization that meets the specific needs and unique history of the Black fraternity and sorority, the members of the Black Greek Council unite in brotherly and sisterly love in order to enhance educational, philanthropic and social activities as they relate to African-Americans and African heritage, and to provide an abundance of community service to African-Americans in the Newark and Columbus areas.

"It's All Greek To Me"

Greek Week this year was held this year from Monday, March 30, through Saturday, April 4. The traditional Banner Competition was held on Monday; on Tuesday the talk, "No Matter What the Letter--We're All Greek Together: The Relationship Between Historically Black Greek Organizations and White Greek Organizations" was held; Wednesday brought bowling at Park Lanes; serenades were held on Friday and Saturday nights, and Saturday brought a Day of Service followed by the annual Battle of the Bands.

As I sit at my Adytum desk high up in Slayter Hall and look out the window which overlooks Deeds Field in Piper Stadium, I am offered a wonderful view of several of the sports which Denison has to offer. Of course, I wish that I also had a view of the swimming pool, and the tennis courts, and all of the fields for that matter, just so that I would not miss out on anything. Denison's sports teams certainly did enjoy their share of successes—and almost-successes—this past year, just as they always have. And whether you are a varsity athlete, a club player or just having some fun out on the intramural fields, Denison offers a wide variety of options and outlets for you to explore.

Athletics. They are a fundamental part of the Denison community. Sports are a way to release stress and to build confidence. And they are also responsible for establishing school spirit, pride and friendships that can last a lifetime.

Needless to say...

Denison students like to get involved. In everything. No matter what type of activity you like, you will most likely already find it here at Denison. And if it doesn't exist, then why not create it yourself? You can easily write for a newspaper or a literary magazine, become involved in community service, sing, dance, make people laugh, become a voice on the radio, even go hiking with friends. You can do nearly anything so long as time permits.

TIME

Time flies here at college, and balancing activities with class work and socializing can be quite tough at times. But the many activities represented here cannot even begin to encompass all those that Denison University has to offer. Such is the dedication to "getting involved" that Denison students have....

The Adytum Constitution

I. Adytum, a place where mysteries and secret things are kept.

II. The organization is dedicated to serving the Denison community primarily through the production and publication of a yearbook. The contents of the book vary from year to year; however, major annual sections include seniors, Greeks, faculty, sports, fine arts, residence halls and organizations/activities. The Adytum has been a Denison organization since 1881, and in 1997-98 will produce Volume CV.

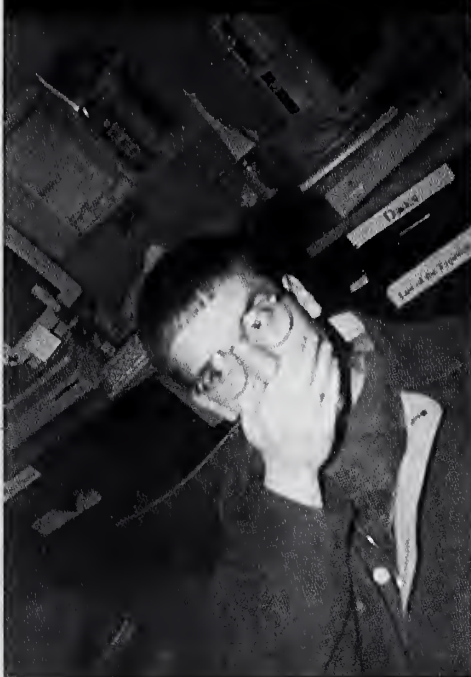

III. The head of the organization is the Editor-in-Chief (more commonly referred to simply as the Editor). The Editor will have at least one year's experience on the Adytum staff and will be appointed by the previous Editor pending the approval of the general staff. Other staff members are as follows:

- Layout Editor
- Photography Editor
- Assistant-to-the-Editor
- Photographers
- General Staff (layout)

The positions of Layout Editor, Photography Editor and Assistant-to-the-Editor will be selected by the Editor-in-Chief based on past yearbook experience. The Editor-in-Chief is selected in April and takes office in May. This is due to the fact that typically the Editor is a graduating senior and proofs will need to be corrected during the summer following graduation. The Editor may select people for the three aforementioned positions immediately in May or in September, when the new staff is finalized.

"The Denisonian offers students a chance to get involved, no matter what their interests are. The newspaper offers information as well as an opportunity to express opinions. Each Sunday night before printing is a crazy, hectic time, but we manage to have a good time and put together a publication we're proud of."

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE:

The Denison University College Republicans was re-established as an organization on campus in the early 1990's in an effort to broaden the political debate and heighten awareness of pressing issues on the local, state and national level. The College Republicans emphasize and affirm the importance of the individual in regards to economics, politics and social concerns. In addition to adding to the diversity of political ideas, the College Republicans provide the means for debate over issues and ideas. Members of the organization are encouraged to participate in grassroots campaigning for Republican candidates for office as well as to become involved in the governance system at Denison. The Denison University College Republicans are proud to continue the tradition and legacy of the party of Lincoln, and draw great strength from the hundreds of Denison students who believe in the principles of the Grand Old Party.

In the Kitchen

My hands stained with cilantro, pungent garlic, rosemary.

The red pepper—roasted for 15 minutes at 375 degrees rinsed in cold water flakes skin and oozes juice—bleeds.

Your blood rust colored on my hands. Strong and sweet
Greased my face, my lips.

This is a metaphor for something unspeakable, disgusting.

lost in it, in a kitchen cooking pasta.

The portabella mushrooms
bleed gray juice give everything their distinctive flavor.

Somehow I am saying
"we are nothing more than our fluids."

Water, salt tear drops,
yellow mucous, white wine and blood.

My hands reek of liquid
gray juice, rust blood,

I am reminded that both sex and cooking are best either silent or shrill.

Denison students have always been encouraged to express themselves through the arts, and here we are able to see that expression in its "finest" form—the fine arts. Whether it may be through dancing, singing, playing an instrument, drawing or acting on the stage, Denison students continue to impress the Denison and Granville communities through their exceptional abilities.

Kristen Michelle Beutler

As a Park National Bank and Heritage Scholar, you have stood out in your classroom performance, as is witnessed by one of your economics professors who ranks you among the top two percent of the students he has ever taught. Your academic accomplishments are also attested to by the fact that you have just been accepted into five major law schools in different parts of the country. At the same time, you have worn many other different hats at the University—as Vice President and President of your sorority, Alpha Chi Omega, as a much-praised Admissions Senior Interviewer, and as a formidable force on the women's soccer team. Your past awards for your athletic talent—Regional First Team Academic All-American, All-Ohio First Team Academic All-American—reached a climax last year in your selection by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America as one of eleven 1997 National Academic All-Americans. Mind you, this is one of eleven from all three divisions of the NCAA. You are a dedicated balance of scholar and athlete. As one of your professors comments, “How else can you explain a person who sat for the full four hours of the LSAT in her soccer uniform just so she could literally run to the soccer field to play an afternoon match?” We know that you will carry this same enthusiasm into a successful law career after Denison.

Presidential Medalist

Benjamin William Sutherly

Your many nominations catalog your varied contributions to Denison, some of them public, many of them quiet and behind-the-scenes. On entering the University you were awarded a Faculty Scholarship for Achievement, and your outstanding record as a double major in English and Communication confirms the wisdom of the faculty committee that made the award. Faculty describe you as an avid learner and a talented and inspired writer. One of your instructors writes, "His are the thoughts and words of Wendell Berry. He captures landscapes and peoples as did Charles Kuralt." You honed that writing ability by participating in the Newberry Library semester in Chicago, where you wrote an historical analysis of the rural town in which you grew up—a work that one of your professors has compared to a very fine Masters thesis. At the same time, you have been a committed citizen of the University, as contributing editor for the Denisonian, House Advisor, and Admissions Senior Interviewer. In the latter role, it is noteworthy that seven out of every ten students you interviewed applied to Denison. For these and many other reasons, we are immensely proud to have you in the class of 1998.

Presidential Medalist

Michelle Kahlenberg

The time you have spent at Denison has been marked by academic brilliance, intellectual energy, and enthusiastic engagement in the life of the University. It is possible that you hold the record for the maximum number of A-pluses ever given to a Denison student! One of your biology professors says that "her ability to use her knowledge base to answer synthetic questions has made child's play of even the most demanding exams I have ever thrown at her." Another quips, "Her mind is so very fast—and she talks almost as fast as she thinks!" What has been called your "angelic" soprano voice has graced the Denison Singers for four years. Somehow you managed to find the time also to be a Head Resident, a DJ for WDUB, and Admissions Tour Guide. You have crowned your Denison career by being accepted into the combined MD/Ph.D. programs of some of the top graduate schools in the country. There is no doubt in our minds that your medical career will be as remarkable in its accomplishments as your college career has clearly been at Denison.

Presidential Medalist

Margaret Beth Campbell

Yours has been an extraordinary wide-ranging engagement in the life of the University. Academically, you have more than lived up to the promise of your Dunbar Scholarship in the Humanities by your induction into Phi Beta Kappa in your junior year, and by your perfect grade point average. In a fascinating study of the wives of absent mariners of the Stonington Fleet in Mystic Seaport, MA, you combined a semester of maritime studies with your work as a history major and Young Scholar at Denison to produce a most-accomplished Honors thesis. One of your professors writes that you are "one of the most organized, engaged, and motivated students I have had the pleasure to work with over the course of my 26 years at Denison." At the same time, you have been a leading soprano for the Denison Singers, founder of the New Beginnings Walkathon, Senior Interviewer for Admissions, and an active participant in the activities of your sorority, Alpha Chi Omega. As a result of your many accomplishments and your sparkling enthusiasm, you have made Denison proud to be your alma mater.

Presidential Medalist

Jennifer Ann Brickner

One of your nominators closes her recommendation for you with a simple sentence: "She can do it all!" Even a cursory look at your record attests to the accuracy of that statement. Your impact across the University has been comprehensive and deep: double major in psychology and sociology/anthropology; chosen for Phi Beta Kappa in your junior year; elected as President of the Denison Community Association in your junior year; Young Scholar, Head Resident, Senior Interviewer for Admissions, and Co-Editor of the Denisonian. Another of your many nominators for the President's Medal says that "Jennifer pushes the limits of her considerable abilities, both academic and organizational. In doing so, she is a highly valued contributor to the Denison community. Her discipline in organizing the various parts of her life astounds me!" These traits were also recognized beyond the Denison campus just three weeks ago, when you were named the 1998 recipient of the Kussmaul Award, an honor given by the Granville Business and Professional Association for civic contributions to the community. You have, indeed, done it all, and today we honor you for all the ways in which you have made the community a better place during your stay here.

Presidential Medalist

Nicole Elizabeth Braden

Your years at Denison have blended an absolute commitment to academics with a persistent dedication to service to the University. Teachers remember you as one who has done all the assigned readings, and one who has had the acumen and the intellectual maturity to tackle the authors of those readings head-on in classroom discussion. One of your religion professors calls your honors project on the Jubilee Year in the Book of Leviticus "one of the two best I have ever supervised." This year you were chosen as Denison's single recipient of the highly competitive Ohio Regent's Award, which you will carry to one of the four top-rated law schools in the country. You have carried the same kind of commitment in service to Denison and the larger community. You have served the University as Admissions Tour Guide and Senior Interviewer, DCGA Speaker of the Senate and Academic Chair, recipient of the Office of Religious Life Award, and Vice President of Alpha Chi Omega. This past year you were named as one of only 50 students nationwide recognized for their campus leadership by the National Order of Omega. We applaud, celebrate, and appreciate these distinguished achievements during your time at our University.

This year has shown that the more things change, the more they stay the same. At times, it seems as though the faculty and administration cycle through this University at the same rate as do the students. New professors arrive each year, some destined to finish their careers at Denison, others simply passing through. Old professors leave, either ending their distinguished careers (I dare not flatter all the student-readers we may have by lying that they could no longer compete with their students' youthful minds—they can) or simply moving on to other challenges. However, that having been said, I would invite any professor thinking of leaving for the latter to capture the attention of a five-day-a-week eight-thirty! The decision by President Myers to leave Denison at the end of this year caused a great deal of excitement as the search for the nineteenth President of Denison University progressed to the point where two candidates had been narrowed down by a presidential selection committee composed of both members of the Board of Trustees and a campus advisory committee. But more about that can be found in the following pages. Here, other facets of the faculty and administration should be addressed, such as the many honors which Professor Kennard B. Bork, holder of the Denison University Alumni Chair and professor of geology and geography, received over the course of the last year. On October 22, 1997, he was presented with the 1997 Geology Award from the Geological Society of America. This award is given annually to recognize outstanding contributions in the history of geology, and for the first time was awarded to a faculty member from an undergraduate liberal arts college. And of course the accolades do not end there. At the 1998 Academic Awards Convocation, Professor Philip Stukus, professor and chair of biology, received the Charles A. Brickman Outstanding Teacher Award, just to name one. We shall refrain from naming them all, since space will not allow us to do so. Presenting the faculty and administration of Denison University...

DENISON

UNIVERSITY

November 5, 1997

Dear Friends in the Denison Community,

I am writing to let you know that this will be my last year at Denison. I have accepted the presidency of Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville, New York, beginning August 1, 1998.

This has been a difficult decision for me since there is so much here at Denison I care about. The people certainly—faculty, staff, students, board members, and so many alumni of the college. In almost nine years, we have done much together to strengthen the institution, improve its academic reputation, and recruit talented students. I have grown and learned a lot here, mostly because of what you as a community have been willing to give me, and I will leave better and richer from the many close associations I have been privileged to have and the friends I have made.

Why leave? There is much to be done at Denison still, and much to enjoy as we see the college get better and financially more secure each year, the results of the hard work we have done together. I am, however, at a crossroads, professionally and personally. The window of opportunity for professional changes at my age is not so wide, so the challenge presented by Sarah Lawrence comes when I can spend enough years there to accomplish what is needed. Denison is right now between major projects and major capital campaigns, and will be able to attract a first-rate president who will bring new ideas and new ways of looking at things. Such renewal is healthy as the college prepares itself for the next decades.

Sarah Lawrence has a particular appeal for me because of its emphases in the performing and visual arts, creative writing, literature, and psychology—all areas I care deeply about. It is also unusual in its pedagogy, a don system not unlike that at Oxford. All classes are taught seminar-style in groups of no more than 12-15 students, who each have individual weekly conferences with their teachers. Bronxville's proximity to New York City allows for many well-known artists and writers to work and teach at Sarah Lawrence. I will enjoy the closeness to New York, having rediscovered during my time in Paris how much I missed living in a city.

This is a bittersweet moment for me. I will miss Denison very much, especially all my friends here who have been supportive through the difficult times and decisions we have weathered together. Denison is a stronger institution now than when I came, and we should all take pride in the work we have done. I will continue to care about what you are doing here and feel grateful for the opportunity to have served this college and worked alongside wonderful faculty and staff colleagues. I will miss you and will treasure our friendship for the rest of my life.

Sincerely,

Michele Tolela Myers
President

November 6, 1997

Dear Members of the Denison Community,

It is with the greatest regret that we write to tell you that Michele Tolela Myers has resigned the Presidency of Denison University, effective at the end of the current academic year, her ninth year at Denison's helm. Michele has accepted a new challenge at Sarah Lawrence College in New York, where she will become president next summer.

Michele's tenure at Denison has given us years of outstanding leadership. Without a doubt, her vision has propelled the College to new levels of achievement that set an enduring standard for the future. All of us are the beneficiaries of her presidency. The Board accepts Michele's resignation in the knowledge that we will always be deeply in her debt, and with the warmest wishes of a grateful institution.

The legacy that Michele leaves Denison is one of great forward momentum. With its fine faculty, staff, and student body, its enviable facilities, and its impressive endowment, Denison is extremely well positioned to attract a first-rate successor. The Board will move quickly to establish a search committee and process. At such a pivotal time, the assistance of our internal community will be an invaluable resource. You will hear more in the near future about how you can be of help.

You are all keenly aware that the 1990's have brought unparalleled challenges to higher education in America, and especially to liberal arts colleges. Under Michele Myers' guidance, Denison has not only prospered in this difficult environment, but it has established itself as a college that will continue to flourish in the twenty-first century. We can look to the future with the confidence of an institution that has had and will continue to have superb leadership. In this we are very fortunate indeed.

With all best wishes,

Very sincerely,

Charles A. Brickman '54

And in case you missed them....

Senior Exhibitions	142
Presidential Medalists	150

There are two ways to look at the senior year of college, just as there are two ways to feel as one is about to graduate. One can either "put their nose to the grindstone" and hustle to get into the graduate school/profession of their choice or one can "slack off" and coast through, enjoying the fleeting moments of a short college career. And then when graduation day rolls around in early May, some seniors will feel sad at the thought of leaving college and all the fond memories which they made up here on the hill; others will not look back, beaming with ecstasy at the thought of leaving this cursed hill which has been nothing but hard work. Is it really that bad? Is there no middle ground? Perhaps there is. But that is left to the reader to determine for him or herself. In the pages that follow, there are several intriguing quotes from different seniors who have viewed the entire collegiate "process" from distinct perspectives which seem to contradict each other. That is not to say that one is incorrect and the other is correct; it merely states the fact that college, like everything else in life, is subjective. Or dare we return to Einstein and relativity? Nevertheless, whatever your feelings on this matter, we dedicate this yearbook to the senior class, that they may make their alma mater proud, that they may serve as the leaders they can be, and that they may enjoy all the success that the world has to offer them.

Aida—

Back in 1978 we had a dream that you would one day earn your own cap. How wonderful to see that happen with honors in 1998! Praise God for making it possible. You worked hard to deserve every bit of the academic merits you won. As grateful parents we thank all at Denison that made it possible.

We love you very much and thank you for making us proud parents. God bless you and best wishes for the future.

Mom & Dad

Dear Jon,

It has been our pleasure to watch you experience life as you've gone nose to nose with the ants, lady bugs, spiders, worms and roly-polys in our backyard. More recently you tediously struggled to find the correct transposon to isolate gene M89 in Dr. Eric Leibl's research laboratory.

Jon, your creative imagination, zest for a great game of ultimate frisbee, inquisitive mind, and profound determination has enabled you to go far with your dreams and goals. You have already surpassed the high hopes we had for you. Now our desire is for you to reach your full potential in the next phase of your life. As your journey continues may there always be an abundance of Love, Joy and Peace surrounding you.

We Love You!
Mom and Dad

Jon,

From e-l-e-p-h-a-n-t to banana seat bikes, from walking the hamster to snow drift tunnels, from back seat arguments to after-dinner wrestling matches, from serious discussions to tickle fights. I look back with fond memories and love. I am so proud of everything you have done and will do in your life, little brother! I pray that our special memories will continue to be made. Congratulations!

I love you!
Your Big Sis

May 1998

Dear Kim:

Congratulations on your Graduation from Denison. We know you have had many happy experiences during your four years at college. And, lucky for us, you were the first of your brothers and sisters to graduate in four years.

As you read this in years to come, remember our love for you and our proud feelings for what you have accomplished.

God bless you always,

Love,

Mom and Dad

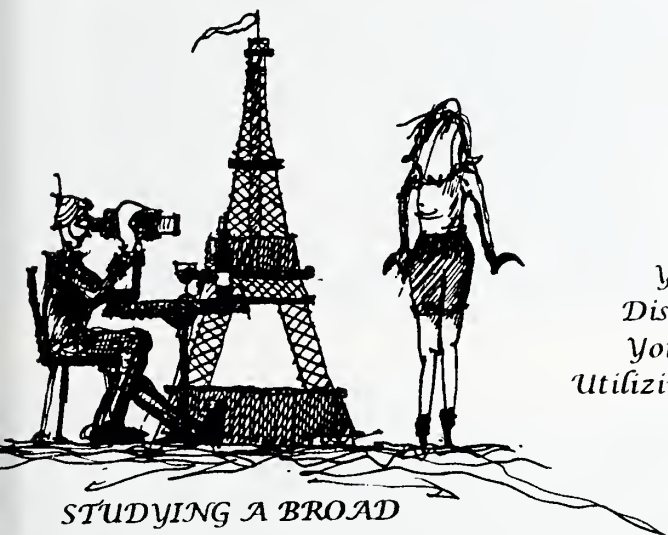

ALL NIGHTERS

TO OUR SON ALEX KUHLE

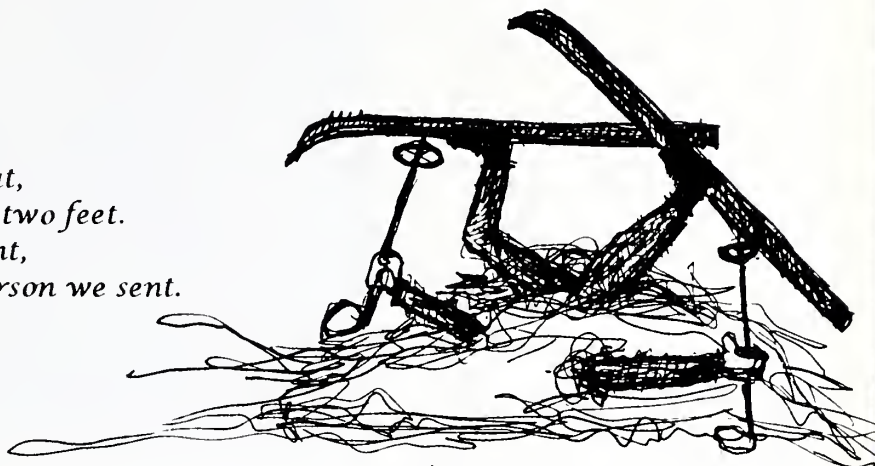

Dear Alex:

Now that you've made it to graduation day,
Mom and I have a few words we'd like to say.
We know you struggled with all your might,
Putting in long hours on many a lonely night.

Your leadership ability takes no back seat,
As you've learned to stand firmly on your own two feet.
Your semester abroad was very well spent,
You came home far wiser and cultured than the person we sent.

STUDYING A BROAD

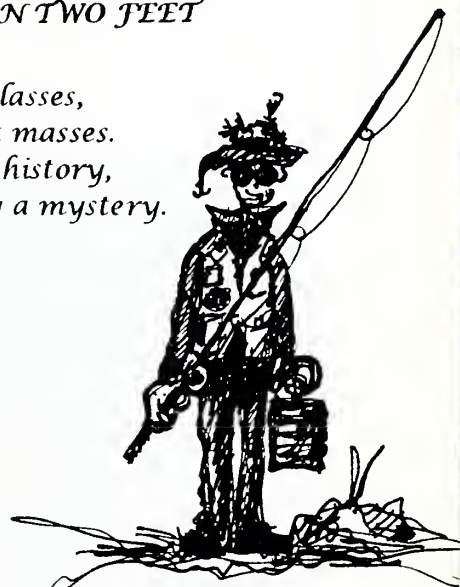

STANDING FIRMLY
ON TWO FEET

You've challenged yourself with exotic classes,
Distinguishing yourself among the student masses.
You've excelled at your major, which was history,
Utilizing exhaustive research to clarify many a mystery.

EXPLORING ETHNIC DIVERSITY - GRILLING
BRATWURST

You embraced the university's cultural and ethnic diversity,
Gaining many a new friend and satisfying your curiosity.
I'm sure you wonder where the four years went,
However, we had no problem keeping track by the tuition payments we sent.
In closing, Alex, on a more serious note,
As a truly outstanding person, you'd get our vote.
You've worked hard and have every right to feel proud,
Combined with your winning personality you always stand out in any crowd.
No matter what changes life may bring, know this to be true
No parents could be more proud of their son than we are of you.

Love, Mom and Dad

Jaime Salay

You have always filled our lives with laughter, joy, happiness, pride, and most of all love. Trust yourself and have the courage to do your best, the determination to succeed, and never lose the ability to dream.

And when you finally fly away, We'll be hoping that we served you well.

Through all the wisdom of a lifetime no one can ever tell.

But whatever road you choose, We are right behind you win or lose

And in our hearts you will remain — Forever young

Thanks for the enjoyment and memories we shared with you the four years at Denison. Your future now awaits you! Remember, which ever path you choose, we love you.

Mom & Dad

How far you go in life is determined ONLY by you and your dreams. Persist until you succeed! Congratulations! We love you very much.

Paulie, Jeanne & Paulie Jr.

"At this moment, you are in one of the most exciting phases of your life. The whole world lies before you. The opportunities are limitless. What you do, where you go, and what you become depends on your willingness to work toward a goal. As an athlete, you have already learned the virtue of perseverance. You have learned that you can overcome obstacles with the proper effort and practice. If you pursue other goals throughout life with the same tenacity, you will succeed. Most importantly, the real key to success is within yourself. No one can give it to you or take it from you. You hold your destiny in your hands."

Always be true to yourself and believe in yourself. I love you lots — you will always be my favorite orange peel — fighting, goonie-watching, kick boxing sister.

With love, Sheri

I have followed Jaime is sports as a child through sixteen years of schooling. She is a true athlete, playing both volleyball and basketball, and set records in Denison's Volleyball which will stand for a long time. Jaime was picked 3 years as first team in the NCAC Conference. Jaime is a scholar and is loved by all who meet her with her pleasant smile.

Grandfather Charles Herke

God Bless you and grant you joy and happiness, I love you.
Grandma Salay

Like the sunshine, you can brighten any room!
Be happy in life!

And you are welcome to come with us on vacation anytime!

A Senior's Lament

My college days draw near their end.
Alas—too soon their course has run,
Too few the days I yet may spend
Amid these scenes of careless fun.

A Freshman green, four years ago,
I trembling climbed this classic mount,
Resolved all ancient lore to know,
To drink deep droughts at wisdom's fount.

In Sophomoric sport and revel
My second year passed idly by.
I smoked and drank and played the devil,
A reckless dashing blade was I.

My Junior year in careless bliss
I spent beneath Don Cupid's sway.
Full many a maiden I did kiss,
Full many a heart I stole away.

A Senior now, I sore repent.
My sheepskin seems a fleeting vision.
In toil my midnight hours are spent,
To graduate—my chief ambition.

Ah! Freshman, toiling up the way,
Lose not thy glowing aspirations
Nor wreck thy spirit young and gay
In reckless, empty dissipations.

Ah! Junior light of heart and head
Beware when maiden's charms invite.
In learning's path thy feet should tread,
Let wisdom be thy chief delight.

Alas! my path grows rough and weary.
Oh! Faculty! My prayer attend!
Have pity on my fate so dreary,
Grant me my sheepskin in the end.

The 1998 Adytum yearbook of Denison University in Granville, Ohio, volume CV, was printed by Taylor Publishing Company, Dallas, TX, and produced with the Taylor PageSetter desktop publishing program utilizing Adobe PageMaker 6.5 for Macintosh and graphics imported using Macromedia Freehand Version 5.5. Ron Fenander was the Taylor Representative and Janey Garrison was the Account Executive.

The 1998 Adytum contained 224 pages printed on 80# Enamel Gloss trimmed to 9x12 inches, excluding Taylor's YearZine sewn into the binding. I am not sure what the cover will be, but I am sure it will be a wonderful surprise. Five hundred fifty copies were printed.

A JVC model RC-440 stereo with a broken tape deck and poor reception capabilities played in the office throughout the production of the book.

The majority of this volume comprises submissions from the Denison community, and all opinions in the form of submissions, while approved by the Editor, are not necessarily those of the Editor or of Denison University. Any offense taken is unintentional.

Correction: There are two corrections on page 182 in the Senior Section. Carrie Hoffman's picture appears out of place; it can be found above Carey Hurst's name. The information printed for Carrie, while matched with the wrong picture, is correct. The picture which is above Carrie Hoffman's name is that of Leah Hurst. Leah is from Kent, England. She is a Psychology and Communication double major, and she is in ΔΔΔ sorority. Carey Hurst does not appear in the Senior portraits. We are sorry for the error and any inconvenience which it may have caused; it was impossible to correct these errors on the page in which they appeared because we were unaware

Dear Reader—

It is with great pride that I present to you the one-hundred-fifth volume of the Adytum, Denison University's annual yearbook. It is my hope that you have taken the time to savor fully the flavor of Denison University during the 1997-98 academic year, as recorded by the staff. Needless to say, it has been a truly formidable task to represent over two thousand students in only two hundred twenty-four pages.

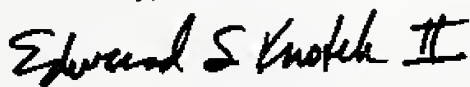

There are several people who deserve much recognition for their important roles in the production of this book. I would personally like to thank Cookie Sunkle for her support, Betty Harris and Sharon Zink for always knowing exactly what I need before I do (and then getting it for me, too!), and Ron Fenander, Janey Garrison and the entire Taylor staff for their extraordinary patience in dealing with one of the least knowledgeable editors in the history of yearbooks. I owe each of you—as well as many others too numerous to mention here, especially everyone who was kind enough to lend us pictures—a large debt of gratitude.

The desk which several days ago contained hundreds upon hundreds of photographs, dozens of invoices, an endless supply of red grease pencils and a remarkable quantity of "Copy Receipt Acknowledgement" letters has now been cleaned and straightened so that it will be ready in the fall. Like the radio which kept me company many-a-night into the early morning hours, it sits mute, awaiting my return in the fall and the preparations which will be needed to produce the one-hundred-sixth Adytum. This year, like every other here at the Adytum office, has been one of experimentation: this year's edition was produced entirely via computer, something new for Denison University; next year's edition will attempt to include the successes attained herein and avoid the failures, so that a new set of failures can be attained instead.

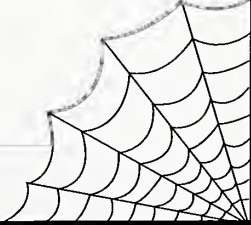

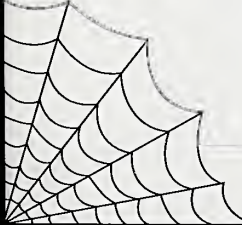

I began the absolutely mammoth task of producing a yearbook with great excitement but little experience; I now finish it with an inordinate amount of experience and a reasonable amount of excitement, most of the latter because I have several months to recuperate. The theme which we had chosen for the yearbook was admirably selected but was not carried out to the extent which I would have liked. Here I add the last VoxPopvli: "Time takes all but memories." That is the precise reason why I have been as responsible as possible in producing the Adytum. If this book assists you ten, twenty, or perhaps even fifty years hence to recall just one happy moment from your college career, then it has served its purpose, and I have not lived in this office this past year in vain. Always cherish the memories which this book contains, but never stop making new ones along the way, for they are worth their weight in gold.

It is after midnight once again.... Have a good night.

Sincerely,

Editor-in-Chief

To Denison

U.E. Field, 1903

To Denison we raise our song,
Fair college on the hill,
The name that sets our souls on fire,
And makes our senses thrill.
To Denison, my Denison,
In praise our voices swell,
The scene of happy college days,
The Home we love so well.

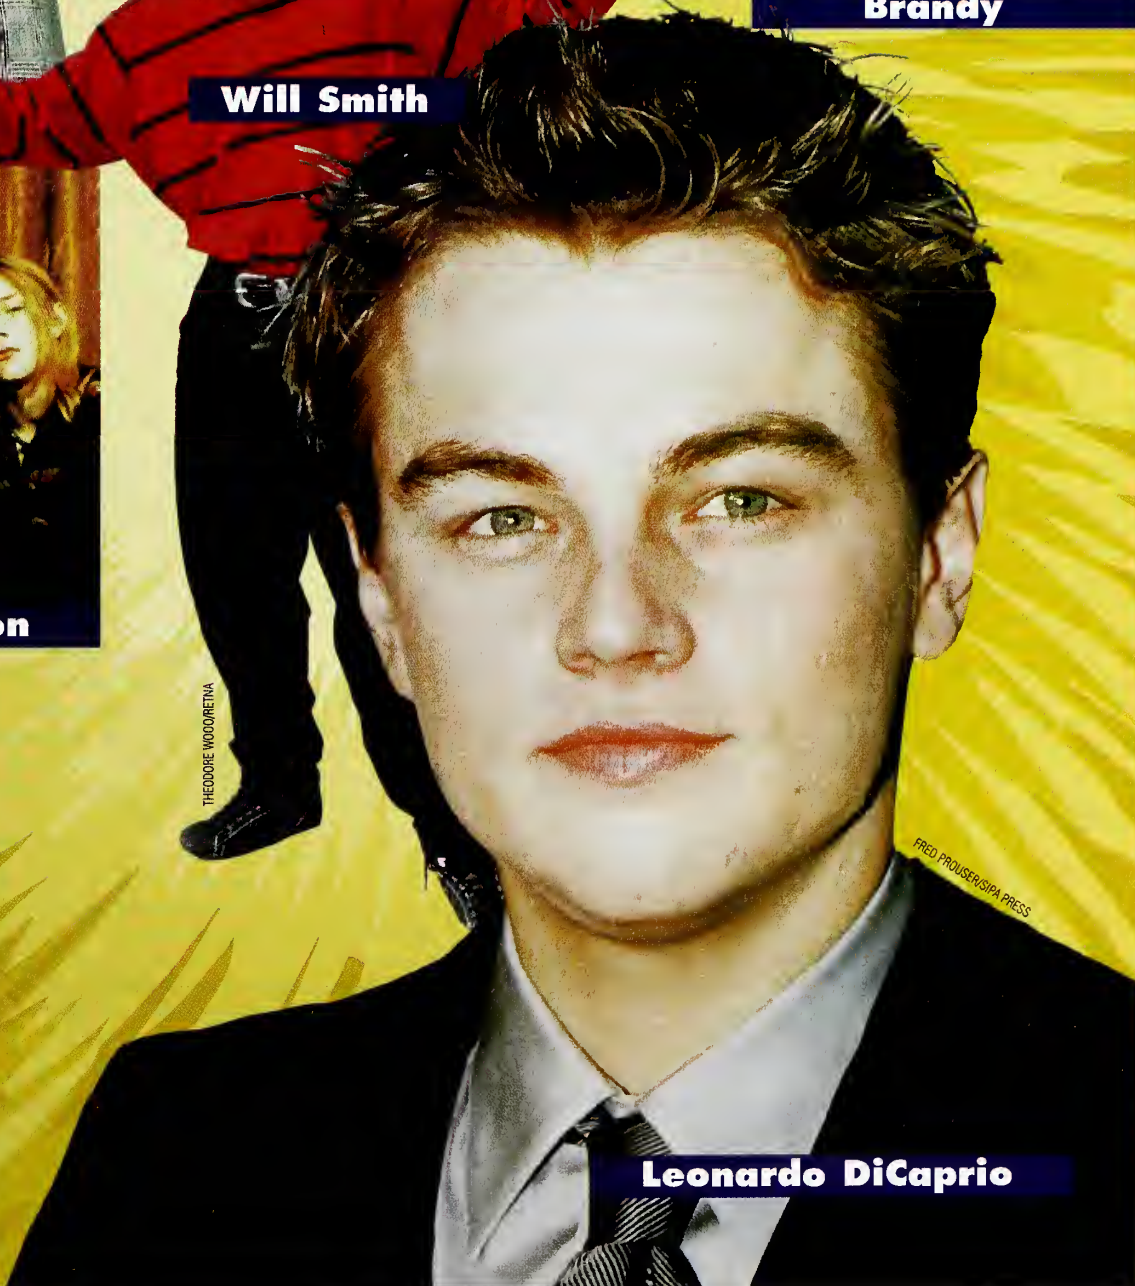

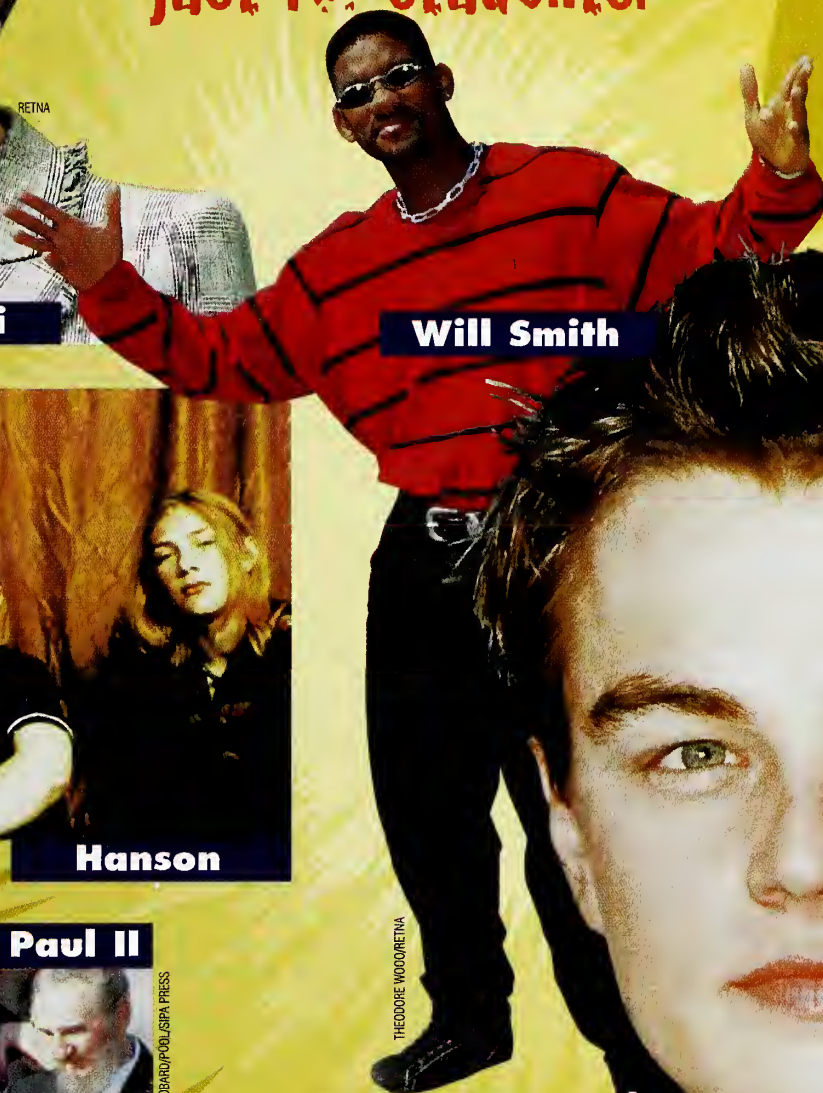

Oh morning glow, which gilds the east,
Oh sun which shines at noon,
Oh stars which bloom at eventide,
Oh radiant glowing moon,
Look from the pathless, azure dome,
Shed blessings from above,
On college halls and college walls,
The Denison we love.

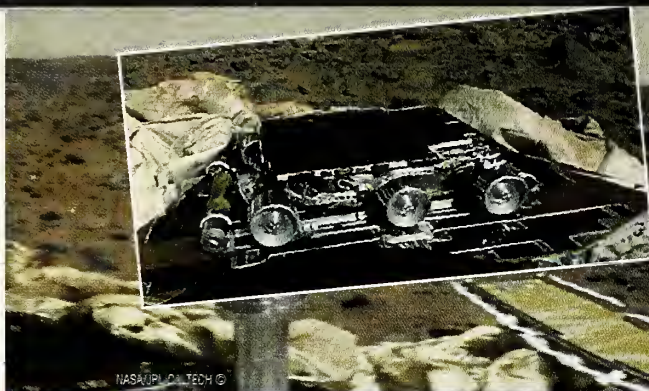

And when the shadows softly fall,
O'er hills and valleys dear,
Across the college campus rings,
The melody so clear;
The circling hills throw back again,
The glad inspiring song,
And in our hearts to Denison,
Our praises we prolong.

When from the fold we far shall stray,
With souls no longer young,
We'll ne'er forget our college days,
These happy scenes among;
And when our steps have feeble grown,
Our journey almost done,
E'en then with fleeting breath we'll praise,
Our dear old Denison.
